

Enforcement Division
Presents 100 Series Courses
Uniform Air Quality Training Program
(UAQTP)

Courses 101 - 115: The Uniform Air Quality Training Program (UAQTP) is a four-day series of 14 courses providing an introduction to air pollution control and enforcement. The program is intended for new, entry-level stationary source inspectors, regulatory agency staff, and environmental specialists in business and government. You will learn the basics of air pollution history, the evolution of air pollution laws and regulations, control equipment, and inspection procedures associated with proper compliance inspections. You are encouraged to ask questions and share your experiences. The entire series must be completed for a certificate of completion to be issued. More information about each of the 14 courses is listed below. The reference manual for this course is provided on CD-ROM (you might wish to bring a laptop computer, but it's not required).
